State fact sheets for grandparents and other relatives raising children

AARP, The Brookdale Foundation Group, Casey Family Programs, Child Welfare League of America, Children's Defense Fund, and Generations United have partnered to produce state and national GrandFacts fact sheets for grandparents and other relatives raising children. The state fact sheets include state-specific data and programs as well as information about foster care, public benefits, educational assistance and state laws. Visit www.grandfactsheets.org to find this and all GrandFacts state fact sheets.

Wisconsin

The Children

- 78,351 children under age 18 live in homes where the householders are grandparents or other relatives (5.9% of the children in the state.) (U.S. 2010 Census)
 - Of these, 59,346 live with grandparents who are the householders (4.4% of the children in the state) and 19,005 live with other relatives who are the householders (1.4% of the children in the state). (U.S. 2010 Census)
- 25,617 children live in homes with grandparent householders where grandparents are responsible for them*
 - Of these children, 10,055 have no parents present in the home.*

The Grandparents*

- 26,802 grandparents are the householders and are responsible for their grandchildren living with them. Of these:
 - 64% of the grandparents are White and not Hispanic, 21% are Black/African American, 3% are American Indian and Alaska Native, 2% are Asian, and 8% are Hispanic/Latino, and may be of any race.
 - 38% have no parents of the children present in the home.
 - 73% are under age 60.
 - 17% live in poverty.
- 6,414 grandparents in Milwaukee are the householders and are responsible for their grandchildren living with them.

*Comparable data are not currently available for homes where other relatives are the householders.

100% of poverty level.

Data not specifically cited are taken from the U.S. Census Bureau 2005-2009 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates, Detailed Table B09006 and Subject Tables S1001 and S1002. Children in Foster Care

- Sometimes state child welfare agencies place children in foster care with grandparents or other relatives. This is often called “kinship care.”
- Federal law requires states to notify all known relatives within 30 days of children’s removal from their parents.

In March 2011 in Wisconsin:

- 6,407 children/youth spent some time in out-of-home care
- 7,162 children/youth were in kinship care. Of these children, 6,121 were voluntary placements and 1,041 were court-ordered.

Placement Policies

- State policy requires that relatives be considered first when an out-of-home placement is sought for a child under the Department's care.
- The licensing requirements are the same for both relative and non-relative foster parents who are eligible for Title IV-E foster care payments. IV-E eligible relative foster parents must meet the same licensing standards and training requirements and receive the same foster care payment rate as non-kin foster parents. Waivers for non-safety requirements available for relative foster parents.

Kinship Care Program

- Program offers support to children living outside their home with kin.
- Visit <http://dcf.wi.gov/children/Kinship/> for more information or call Kinship Care Contacts listed below

Subsidized Guardianship

Wisconsin is implementing the Federal Guardianship Assistance Program (GAP) effective July 2011. GAP provides guardianship subsidies for eligible children who have been living with relatives in foster care and cannot return to their parents, and for whom adoption has been ruled out. Children receiving guardianship subsidies are in permanent placement with relatives and are no longer in foster care.

Public Benefits

Federal and state public benefits programs can help with income, food, healthcare, home energy, telephone and other needs for those who are eligible. Eligibility requirements vary with each public benefit and sometimes are different from state to state. Some benefits are for the family and others are for children or older adults individually. Children are often eligible for public benefits even if their caregivers do not have legal guardianship or custody. Grandparents may become eligible for benefits programs when their household size increases.

Help with Public Benefits

AARP Foundation's Benefits QuickLINK

A free and private way to find out if relatives or the children they are raising qualify for programs that pay for food, increase income and cover home and healthcare costs (listed below). It gives quick results, application forms and the address and phone number of the closest office.

Public Benefits for Older Americans:*

- Medicare Savings Programs
- Medicare Prescription Drug Coverage
- Medicare Rx Extra Help
- State Pharmaceutical Assistance programs (SPAP)
- Medicaid for Aged, Blind, and Disabled
- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)
- Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC)
- Low Income Home Energy Assistance (LIHEAP)
- State Property Tax Relief/Rebates
- Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- Telephone Assistance (Link-Up and Lifeline)

Public Benefits for Families Raising Children*

- Medicaid for Children
- State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP)
- TANF-Child Only Grants
- Supplemental Security Income for Children

*Some of these programs may have age and income restrictions.

Food and Nutrition Services of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA)

- Child Nutrition Program - The schools, early childhood education programs, child care centers, afterschool programs or other programs that children attend may offer free or reduced meals through the federal Child Nutrition Program, which provides breakfast, lunch, snacks, summer meals and milk. Contact the school or program to ask if they participate in any of the child nutrition programs and ask how to apply. Relative caregivers should inform the program that they are raising the child and whether or not they are doing so through a court order.
- Women, Infant and Children (WIC) - States administer federal funds for supplemental foods, health care referrals, and nutrition education for low-income pregnant, breastfeeding, and non-breastfeeding postpartum women, and to infants and children up to age five who are found to be at nutritional risk.

Educational Enrollment

Relative caregivers can contact their local school district's administrative office or their local school to find out how to register the child and what paperwork is needed. Caregivers may need birth records, health records or previous school records. Some states have laws that allow relative caregivers to enroll children they are raising in school. These laws are often called "education consent" laws, but may be called something else in your state.

Early Intervention, Special Education and Related Services

What you need to know:

- The Federal Individuals with Disabilities Act (IDEA) - From birth to age 21, children who have learning disabilities, physical disabilities or other special needs may be able to get special early intervention, preschool and special education services in school through the federal IDEA. Services may include speech, physical, and occupational therapies.

- Child Find – A part of the IDEA that requires states to identify, locate and evaluate children in the areas of cognitive and physical functioning, hearing and vision, speech and language and social and emotional development as early as possible. Once the Child Find evaluation team, which includes a child's caregivers, has decided if a child is eligible for early intervention or preschool special education services, an Individual Family Service Plan (IFSP; birth to three years of age) or an Individual Education Plan (IEP; three to five years of age) is developed and services begin shortly at no cost.
