

Building Beloved Community: A Place for Play & Laughter

Hall-Proctor Institute for
Child Advocacy Ministry
July 21-24, 2025

Named in honor of Rev. Dr. Prathia B. Hall and Rev. Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor, the Hall-Proctor Institute is a sacred gathering where faith leaders and child advocates come together to be renewed, inspired, and equipped for the work of justice. Held annually on the hallowed grounds of CDF Haley Farm in Clinton, TN, we share stories of pain and passion, hope and hurt. We sing and pray. We strategize and struggle. We organize and advocate. And through it all, we find strength to continue the sacred work of ensuring justice and joy for all young people.

This year's theme "Building Beloved Community: A Place for Play & Laughter," invites you to join us in embracing the power of play and laughter as essential acts of resistance, renewal, and radical joy. Over our 50-year history, our work has expanded beyond just serving children to include young people as they mature to adulthood. We are training the next generation of leaders who will guide us towards a brighter future where children and youth have every opportunity to thrive. As we continue the work of listening to America's youngest generations, we are building community so young people grow up with dignity, hope, and joy.
